SUMMARY

Full Stack Developer with hands-on experience working with React, Node.js, Express, and MongoDB. Through project work and team collaboration, I've built a solid foundation in creating responsive, user-friendly interfaces and reliable backend systems. Recently, I've been actively improving my skills with tools like Next.js, Tailwind CSS, and Firebase. I'm now looking to join a supportive team where I can apply both my frontend and backend knowledge to build complete, scalable web applications and continue growing as a developer.
